

WELCOME TO MONTICELLO VINEYARDS AND WINERY

More than forty years ago our family came to Napa Valley to discover and enjoy all that the vintners could share with the visitors. Over time Jay Corley decided that he would join their ranks and develop an estate called Monticello patterned after what Thomas Jefferson had in mind at his home in Virginia.

We have prepared the following to tell you a little more about our family, our wines, and how we grow our grapes and make our wines. We hope you enjoy your experience with us and return again with some of your special friends.

In Vino Veritas,

The Corley Family